Witlon, Inc. and Adherence Compliance Enter Strategic Reseller Partnership

Denver, CO, February 17, 2016 - Witlon, Inc., a full service administrative services company for the cannabis industry, today announced it has entered into a strategic Certified Reseller partnership with Adherence Compliance. The partnership allows Witlon to resell Adherence Compliance software and services to its clients in the cannabis industry. The partnership integrates a full regulatory compliance offering with Witlon's current services, such as payroll administration, staffing and recruiting, human resources administration, and product representation. Witlon will be providing regulatory compliance audits for cannabis clients in more than 8 states, as well as offering Adherence's SCORE App to its current client base for regulatory compliance self assessment.

"This partnership is designed to provide cannabis related businesses with the tools needed to be compliant across all license types. We can now review more than 250 regulatory checkpoints per operational license and provide a detailed compliance report for immediate improvement," said Nicholas Murer, CEO of Witlon, Inc. "Through the use of Adherence's software, Witlon is providing the industry's first automated risk solution in terms of regulatory compliance. Witlon also leverages 15 years of regulatory experience in the energy sector."

"We're thrilled to have Witlon join our Certified Reseller program. As an industry leader in payroll, staffing, human resource services, Witlon will now be leading the way in delivering regulatory compliance audits to the cannabis industry." said Steve Owens, CEO of Adherence Compliance. "With Adherence audit training and our SCORE App, Witlon has a new profit center with compliance services and continues to strive to improve the industry as a whole."

Both Witlon and Adherence will be at CannaCon in Seattle, February 18-19. Please contact either company to set up an introduction or meeting about our services.

Witlon Inc. is an administrative services company providing payroll management, human resource implementation, accounting solutions, recruiting and staffing, product representation, and construction and maintenance project management.
